

Intro

There are currently 2 types of bunker procedures:

1. Simplified procedure for cross border bunker between The Netherlands and Belgium
2. Classic bunker process in The Netherlands and classic bunker process in Belgium

Under the simplified process a Dutch license can be used to performed certain activities in Belgium and the other way around.

Under the classic procedure there is a set of Dutch licenses for bunker supplies in The Netherlands and a set of Belgian licenses for bunker supplies that take place in Belgium.

I describe the simplified cross border option in detail as that one seems most feasible. I described the national option for The Netherlands on a high level just to get an idea of how that looks like. In addition there is a national procedure in Belgium. We can elaborate on the national options if needed. To get an idea of the differences between both procedures I start with a comparison sheet.
