

Holistic overview

- Business Activities

Business Activities

The activities at the terminal consist of the storage and transshipment, handling, processing, and transport of mineral oils. A complete overview of the relevant products is available in the product master file. The figure below provides a schematic overview of ITR's activities. In this Administrative Organization and Internal Control (AO-IB) document, the individual goods flows and procedures are described and elaborated in more detail.

