Subject: RE: T1 product for GPF

Hi Remy,

Thank you for your prompt feedback. What you are telling us concerning the possibility to receive/store the product, pretreat it, and then offer it back to the client on a FOB basis as T1, is a very good news.

Typical current example, a client based in the UK, sourcing feedstock from Asia, willing to pretreat it at GPF and afterwards to be shipped to the UK. They have absolutely no interest to clear the product in Amsterdam since its end destination after pretreatment at GPF is the UK.

We will be receiving many feedstocks (UCO, POME, Tallow cat 1/2 and 3, Acid oils, Brown Grease...).

UCO tariff code: 1518.00.95.90

Regards,
Jean-Noel

Subject: RE: T1 product for GPF

Dear Remy,

I hope you're doing well, though I can imagine how busy things are on your side!

Things have also been quite active on my end with GPF. After some delays, we are now finally approaching the Gate 2 decision. Therefore, I would appreciate your support with one of the deliverables: Operational Permit Requirements.

We discussed this a few months ago, specifically in relation to T1/T2 procedure for a UK-based client (P66) aiming to import UCO from Asia to Amsterdam, pretreat it at our facility, and then ship it to the UK, without clearing it through EU customs. At the time, you confirmed this was possible.

Now, to finalize this deliverable (recognizing that we can further develop it during FEED), I wanted to ask your advice:

- Would it make sense for me to provide you with all relevant TARIC codes for potential feedstocks at this stage?
- Or is this something better addressed in detail during the FEED phase?

As a reminder, GPF operates purely as a tolling service: the customer supplies the product CIF/DAP Amsterdam, we pretreat it, return it on an FOB basis, and charge a fee (storage + pretreatment). We never take title to or purchase the product ourselves.

Looking forward to your guidance.

Have a nice evening.
Jean-Noel
