

VIDA bioenergy

VIDA bioenergy is the renewable natural gas production facility, developed to process organic side streams, such as manure from the region and leftovers from the food and feed industry.